Dear Dr. Pine,

I am referring my patient, Sarah Brown (DOB: 08/16/2019), to you for evaluation of croup.

Sarah recently had her first episode of croup at 2 years old. She developed barking cough, inspiratory stridor, and hoarseness for 3 days accompanied by low grade fever. Symptoms resolved without needing hospitalization or steroids.

Past medical history is unremarkable and she is up to date on immunizations. She has no known drug allergies.

I would be grateful if you could assess Sarah for her croup episode. Please advise if she requires any additional treatment or work up. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Dr Elizabeth Swan
